Design and Conduct your Study with Ease.

xclinical, established in 2002, offers a complete eClinical Software Solution, called marvin. The suite comprises a CDISC-certified Electronic Data Capture (EDC) system that integrates with numerous modules such as Clinical Data Management (CDM), Clinical Trial Management (CTM), Randomization (IWRS), Patient Reported Outcomes (WebPro), etc., all delivered from the cloud.

Moreover, it is accessible from any browser and supports all global languages.

marvin provides intuitive, easy to use tools without the need of programming knowledge. This facilitates the conduct of any clinical trial to become easy, streamlined and very cost-effective. Our software portfolio enables you to manage the complete lifecycle of a clinical study in one single integrated solution.
