

Marvin Your Study!

xclinical

Discover Marvin, XClinical's integrated suite of software products for CROs, (bio)pharmaceuticals and medical device corporations.

Marvin supports the complete data management process for all types of clinical trials and post-marketing studies. Thanks to the use of CDISC standards from CRF design to data collection, data cleaning and data export to tabulation and archiving, Marvin provides maximum benefits in form of cost and time savings and improved data quality.

Our solution combines various integrated modules, optimally supporting clinical trial processes. The suite is offered as Software as a Service (SaaS) model running on any browser and in any language.
